

Message from the Principal's Desk – 23 September 2020

An Education triangle can be assembled with the student, school and parents being the three functional sides. If all the 3 sides of the educational Triangle are in harmony, the level of education imparted is bound to be of a high order. Educators and parents generally agree that positive, supportive and open relationships between home and school, parent and teacher are desirable.

We are very gratified, that parents have supported us in full measure and have influenced the attitudes of children about learning and also supported virtual learning from home.

“A sense of appreciation is the single most sustainable motivator at work.” When someone recognizes our work as meaningful and valuable, it's intrinsically motivating. And that's the kind of motivation that lasts.

Parents have been generous with their appreciation and time. It gives us immense pleasure to share few of the several encouraging messages we received, acknowledging our effort in making a transition from the classroom with four walls to a virtual classroom.

‘Take a Bow from Us’ was what Harsha's (8C) parents had to say! They expressed their gratitude to the school, for not only commencing virtual classroom sessions during the testing times but also for running them effectively. They commended on the way fine balance is being maintained between academics and extracurricular activities.

Parents of Vinayak's (8C) and Subhandita (8E), conveyed their compliments about the seamless transition to virtual classrooms and applauded the disciplined execution of the curriculum and academics. They conveyed their appreciation to the teachers for using features of MS Teams platform and delivering, stirring and stimulating lessons!

New entries to our school, Viraj Sarjerao of class 7, Shriya and Ashwin of class 3 recalled their experience of admission process and on boarding was truly fantastic and remarked that they are pleased their wards had an awesome beginning at the new school.

Parents of Snnehil Sanyasi class 6, Shreya Banerjee, Aditya Shaayon Banerjee and Raihan of class 5 reiterated what most parents felt about simulating the online classes similar to the face to face classes and were amazed at the way their kids transitioned smoothly on to the online platform.

Parents of Nayana Vuyyuru, Navya Garg of class 4, Dhruv Aneja and Nevaan of class 3, congratulated the school for the gradual online boarding, with a basic orientation.

Kudos to NPSW, affirmed Krithika a parent! She acknowledged that NPS Whitefield has done an admirable job, right from issuing books to the doorstep, preparing parents and students well in advance, conducting online orientation sessions, training both teachers and students in using MS Teams, increasing online classes gradually and most importantly took stress away from both the students & parents and made learning a tremendous fun activity!

We appreciate the valuable feedback from our parents. It gives us immense satisfaction that we achieved what we set out to do, created a caring environment for students to learn!
